ABOUT ATS:

Over the last two decades, Applied Training Solutions (ATS), has been a trusted partner to more than one hundred state and federal institutions supporting their crisis response and consequence management training requirements. As a leading provider of training and operational support technologies, ATS delivers leading edge technology and innovative solutions building resilient organizations. We offer technology and services to increase effectiveness in planning, training, and operations.

The ATS Team understands that disasters, natural or manmade, can strike at any time. Preparing for disasters requires an all-hazards approach, starting with training and exercise. Preparing for disasters, training against scenarios, and simulated exercise prepares our clients for what the future could entail.
